

Faculty Summer Salary Request

Please charge summer salary to my sponsored research and/or salary recovery funds during the summer of 2015 as indicated below. I understand and agree to comply with the University policy on supplemental employment (Cornell University Faculty Handbook, Seventh Edition, 2002, page 40), that states:

Faculty members who teach during the summer session and/or work on sponsored research may receive up to maximum of three months' summer salary, if prior approval is given by the respective deans, [chairs, or directors]. The normal maximum period for charging summer salaries to sponsored research projects at Cornell is two and one-half months, on a [semi-monthly] basis. All compensation for summer employment at Cornell must be for time spent during the officially designated summer period.

During this period of time, I will be actively engaged in:
