

My name is Bethany Schull. I'm from Binghamton New York.
My name is Mario Saldana. I'm originally from Bogota Colombia.
My name is Meriel Engrand. My hometown is Melbourne Florida.
My name is Anita Jain and I'm from Greensburg Pennsylvania.

A memorable moment at CEE was the fluid mechanics lab with Gustavo and having just like an AHA moment to understand minor and major losses in pipe flow.

Concrete design is just one of those classes that if anybody came to CEE and took it they'll remember it.

What inspires me are the incredibly driven students in the Cornell's chapter of Bridges to Prosperity. They inspired me to be a better engineer.

I'm going to daily miss all of the opportunities that I've had here at Cornell.

I'm going to miss people walking around with backpacks.

My friends and the snow, but not the cold, definitely.

My peers, teachers, and the fantastic sense of purpose that drives us all to push our boundaries.
